- Sargam Bahal

Delhi Public School Kolar Road has completed ten years since its inception in 2013. It is with pride and elation that I share my reflections and feelings associated with this great institution of learning.

As the school gears up for a new decade of learning, we sought to pick a theme for this year's decadal celebration. It is 'DECENNIALIA- Let's grow together'. What better theme than the one that promotes a 'Life-long learning trend, which is what we see in our students.

'Education need not be a tool for survival but for enhancing perception. The children must blossom and flower into great human beings'. DPS Kolar aims to not only train students for academic excellence but empowers it students to be life-long learners. 'The Gallop' is a true reflection of the deep rooted philosophy of the school- Laying the foundation of excellence and over the past ten years it has showcased the stellar achievements and accolades received by its students and teachers. Very interestingly, in the growth of its students lies the growth of the school. Not only have the students brought laurels to themselves but also to the school. Over the years, the school has carved a niche for itself in the field of education.

DPS Kolar is a futuristic school which has adapted itself to accommodate the latest, more dynamic and impactful learning environments- The AI lab, the ATAL Tinkering Lab and robotics. In today's environment –the 21st century skills of Entrepreneurship and Leadership are of utmost importance. DPS Kolar takes pride in sharing with the world that we incorporate these very soft skills in every thread of the curriculum.

The school has advanced its efforts in preparing students to make better choices for careers and professions keeping in mind the aptitudes and preferences of students. DPS Kolar is not only about making right career choices but also enabling life-long growth and progress.... Happy Reading!

The Enchanting Power of Nature: Enhancing Children's Learning

Ms. Anuragini Shadangule
COD - Academic Coordinator

In our ever-evolving world, where technology dominates our lives, it is becoming increasingly evident that children's connection with nature is diminishing. This shift is largely due to the rise of digital devices and the allure of virtual experiences, which often take precedence over outdoor activities. As a result, children are missing out on the numerous benefits that nature offers for their physical, mental, and emotional development.

Nature has a magical way of captivating children's attention and sparking their curiosity. The enchanting power of nature not only enhances children's learning but also nurtures their overall development. Studies have shown that kids who have regular exposure to nature tend to learn better and experience improved cognitive, emotional, and physical development.

The benefits of being in nature for children are endless! Not only it is fun and relaxing, but it also alleviates stress. We, at DPS Castle of Dreams Kolar, situated amidst beautifully landscaped gardens sprawling with lush green vegetation, allow children to use their imagination and develop it mentally, physically, and emotionally. Since nature is worthwhile for everyone, you and your children can both enjoy the outdoors!

Parents can incorporate nature into a child's routine by taking them on walks or hikes in natural areas, having picnics in parks, planting a garden together, or simply spending time playing outside. It is important for children to have these experiences from a young age in order to foster a love and appreciation for the outdoors, allowing them to carry these positive habits into adulthood.

Invest your precious time with your child in the garden or under the shield of nature! It's a great way to enhance a child's growth.

"Education is more than just a stepping stone to getting you a high-paying job"

"In a representative republic, the education of our children is of the utmost importance"

—James Monroe

Dr. Aparna Verma
Academic Coordinator
(Senior Secondary Segment)

While the origins of the idea of "education" are ambiguous, most of us can take an educated guess as to why the idea was conceptualized, incorporated, and propagated throughout the world: to sustain acquired life skills and pass them down to the next generation.

Today, most students have copious antipathy towards this concept, as they associate the word with the limited and somewhat convoluted nature of their higher education and define it as such. Contrary to popular belief, a good education is not merely an unfortunate or stressful ticket to the upper middle class even at the scope mentioned above.

The ideologies, ethics, cultural identities, and so on molded into a person during the early years of their formal education usually stick eternally; therefore, education is a necessary clog in the machine that churns social policies.

The famous American director, actor, screenwriter, and producer Orson Welles defined progress as "a greater realization of democracy and human rights." In a democratic republic, people have the final say on everything—a list that, for better or worse, also includes the rights of other humans.

Education helps conserve cultural identities by inculcating cultural, ethical, and moral values into the impressionable minds of young scholars.

While the perception of education as having a greater purpose than being a stepping stone to a high-paying job remains an abstruse notion for the vast majority, empirical and theoretical evidence supports the following claim: the right kind of education helps spur cultural, moral, ethical and progressive values; and innovation; any form of education is also a stepping stone to further levels of education. Finally, education is not only conducive but necessary to the progress and prosperity of a republic and its people.

THE GREEN GLOBE

Flowers flowers flowers
Trees trees trees..
They are grown in centuries.
They give us a gentle breeze..
So that we can breath with ease.
When we go out to play in sands,
We can play without burning our hands.
We get shelters,we get fruits.
We can even use their roots.
We need shadows in hot sunny days,
Unlike humans tree never betrays.
If we won't have forests and greens,
We would see animals only in our dreams.
So please don't ever cut them down
Don't turn mother earth from green to brown.
Try to make them flourish around
And live your life safe and sound.

When will we realise ?

Cities submerge ,winds cry
Animals on deaths verge ,rivers run dry
Birds don't know where to fly
Yet we don't realise why ?
Your thoughtless actions
Have already killed tons
Is it that much fun ?
Watchung the innocents run ?
Step out of your palace
Watch this life race
Feel this heat breathe this air
Why don't you care ?
The lands rot
Seas replete with junk a lot
The fading blue sky
Yet we don't realise why ?
See the climate change ?
Don't conclude it as fate
Rather it's a consequence
Of your Greedy conscience.
Forests burn ,islands turn
Rivers flood ,glaciers melt .
Why can't you tell
Just what you have done.

A WAR STORY

Slender fingers had once run across
These black and white teeth
Not long ago,
But last week, playing the melody of humankind

Now the tulle has shrivelled up
And the walls have collapsed
The only thing that beats
Is the square metronome
Keeping rhythm to the gunshots outside

AN ODE TO MY COLOURS

Blue hung down
My purple back
And pleasure presented its lack
Before I walked out

I walked to the Nearest neon-red dispensary
Where, balanced on shelves, democracy
Stored in bottles claimed to cure my hurt.

"Blue hangs down my back" I complained
To the red faced man
Who, in tender words began
"We don't sell colours here"

L'histoire du chocolat est fascinante

Cultivé par les Mayas il y a 3000 ans en Amérique centrale, le cacao est issu des fèves des cabosses. En 1502, Christophe Colomb introduit les premières fèves de cacao en Europe, mais la fabrication du chocolat reste inconnue.

En 1519, Hernán Cortés découvre l'empereur Montezuma buvant "xocoatl", une boisson amère, sans sucre. Cortés rapporte des fèves en Espagne en 1528, où le chocolat devient populaire après y avoir ajouté du sucre.

Les Italiens découvrent le secret de fabrication en 1606.

Le mariage de Louis XIII et Anne d'Autriche en 1615 propage la popularité du chocolat en France.

Le XIXe siècle voit l'industrialisation de la production de chocolat, avec la naissance des grandes marques actuelles. Cette histoire montre l'évolution du chocolat, de boisson amère des anciennes civilisations à la variété délicieuse de produits au cacao que nous apprécions aujourd'hui.

जीवन में ऊर्जा का विस्तार

विद्यालय का महत्व (लेख)

विद्यालय युवा व्यक्तियों के दिमाग और भविष्य को आकार देने में महत्वपूर्ण भूमिका निभाता है। यह एक ऐसा स्थान है, जहाँ छात्र ज्ञान प्राप्त करते हैं, सामाजिक कौशल विकसित करते हैं और अनुशासन की भावना जागते हैं। विद्यालय एक संरक्षित वातावरण प्रदान करता है, जो विभिन्न विषयों को पाठ्येत्तर गतिविधियों के माध्यम से सीखने को बढ़ावा देता है और साथियों और शिक्षकों का सम्मान करना भी सीखना है। वे एक सर्वांगीण शिक्षा की नींव के रूप में कार्य करता है। छात्रों को चुनौतियों का सामना करने और समाज में सकारात्मक योगदान देने के लिए तैयार करता है। विद्यालय एक महत्वपूर्ण संस्था है, जहाँ छात्र सीखते हैं बढ़ाते हैं और विकास करते हैं। यह शिक्षा सामाजिक संपर्क प्रदान करता है और व्यक्तियों को उनके भविष्य की भूमिकाओं के लिए तैयार करता है। विभिन्न विषयों और गतिविधियों के माध्यम से विद्यालय छात्रों को सफलता के लिए आवश्यक ज्ञान कौशल और मूल्यों से युक्त करता है। यह शैक्षणिक शिक्षा और व्यक्तिगत विकास दोनों को बढ़ावा देने तथा चरित्र निर्माण में सहायता करता है।

हमारे विद्यालय का आदर्श वाक्य "स्वयं से पहले सेवा" परोपकारिता और समुदाय सहभागिता को समाहित करता है। यह हमें याद दिलाता है कि हमारे कार्यों में हमारे आसपास के लोगों के जीवन में सकारात्मक लहर पैदा करने की शक्ति है। इस सिद्धांत को आत्मसात करके हम न केवल बेहतर नागरिक बनते हैं बल्कि अपने और अपने समाज के लिए एक उज्ज्वल भविष्य भी बनाते हैं।
